PURPOSE STATEMENT

Members play a vital role in the association's governance, policy, and programs through the work of committees. Committee members are subject matter experts who gather critical information, produce reports and recommendations, and provide feedback to the FFCA Board of Directors. They perform a vital role in the association by sharing their expertise and providing valuable guidance to the board. Committees and task forces also offer a valuable leadership development service for the association by providing members the opportunity to get involved in association activities and acquire organizational knowledge, skills and abilities that will prepare them to become future association leaders.

Committees and task forces are appointed to serve the membership and are formed to carry out the strategic plan of the association. The most vital role a committee or task force plays is to make policy recommendations to the board of directors. An informed and active committee or task force looks out for the best interests of the FFCA.

A group of members with specialized interests may, on attaining not less than fifty (50) Active and/or Associate members, request to form a section of the association as described herein. Sections shall select their own section councils. Sections shall not have representation on the FFCA Board of Directors unless otherwise specified in the association's bylaws. Sections shall operate within the corporate structure of the association and their bylaws shall be approved by the FFCA Board of Directors and be consistent with the constitution and bylaws of the association.

CODE OF CONDUCT AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

It shall be the responsibility of all FFCA committee members to be familiar with, and ensure that, established codes of conduct and conflicts of interest policies are adhered to. The FFCA firmly believes that no individual should benefit personally or professionally from decisions of the board and/or any committee under its purview. Nor should they individually benefit from the activities of the organization at the expense of the greater good of the FFCA. Committee members that incur potential conflicts of interest must recuse themselves from discussion and voting on such matters. Such conflict will be deferred to the board of directors who will determine how to manage the potential conflict.

COMMITTEE INFORMATION

The FFCA establishes different types of committees to assist the association in fulfilling its mission and achieving its strategic goals. The FFCA constitution and bylaws require four (4) permanent committees. The president has the authority to create other committees and task forces necessary to accomplish the goals and objectives of the association.

Constitutional Committees - are required by the constitution and bylaws. They are:

- Audit, Budget, and Finance Committee – Chaired by the secretary/treasurer
- Election Committee – Chair appointed as needed by the president
- Membership Committee – Chaired by the first vice-president

- Strategic Planning Committee – Chaired by the second vice-president

Ad-hoc Committees - perform a continuing function to the association. They make policy recommendations to the board of directors, undertake long-term assignments and carry out the work of the association. FFCA ad-hoc committees include:

- Active Shooter Best Practices
- Bylaw/Policy Review
- Conference Planning
- Domestic Security Resource
- Legislative
- Emergency Response Committee (ERC)
- Wildland Fire

Task forces - are created by the FFCA president to address a specific issue, usually a new or current problem facing the association. They have definite charges and usually remain active from one to three years or until the task is completed.

Subcommittees - are temporary work groups designated by a committee or task force chair to conduct research, make recommendations or produce a work product for a committee or task force and then disband. Members of committees or task forces may serve as subcommittee members. Subcommittees may consist of FFCA members beyond committees or task forces and may also include non-FFCA members.

AD-HOC COMMITTEE SCOPES/MISSION

Active Shooter Best Practices – To provide the board of directors updated information regarding active shooter/active assailant response. The committee will monitor the development and implementation of NFPA 3000 with the intent of providing feedback along with recommendations for endorsement, modification and distribution.

Bylaw/Policy Review – The president shall convene the Bylaws and Policy Review Committee to review current not-for-profit association standards to ensure operational integrity while meeting the needs of the membership and fulfilling all regulatory requirements. The committee initiates and/or reviews proposed changes to the FFCA constitution and bylaws, and reports on the changes to the board of directors and to the FFCA membership. The committee also receives and reviews all resolutions submitted by the membership and makes a recommendation on each resolution in a report to the membership. The committee then submits resolutions to the general membership for a vote at the general business meeting.

Conference Program Planning – The Conference Program Planning Committee(s) develops a comprehensive, entertaining and informative educational program for the association's conferences. Each year, each committee develops a call for papers and then evaluates presentation proposals to determine applicability to the conference audience, as well as quality and level of material submitted. The committee searches and reviews proposals for the keynote and educational speakers and makes speaker recommendations.

Domestic Security Resource – The Domestic Security Resource Committee identifies terrorism and homeland security issues for FFCA advocacy, builds a reputation as a resource on homeland security issues, fosters and maintains crucial relationships with homeland security leaders and strengthens FFCA's visibility as the fire service leader in the state on terrorism and homeland security issues.

Legislative – The Legislative Committee focuses local, state and federal issues that impact EMS, fire service and public safety. The committee analyzes current issues for their impact on the fire service and gives information and guidance to the board of directors; analyzes legislative proposals and bill drafts; works with our other public safety partners, especially the Florida Sheriff's Association, State Fire Marshal's Office, and the Department of Health; and analyzes and works with private sector organizations that develop proposals of interest to fire service and public safety.

Emergency Response – The Emergency Response Committee (ERC) is responsible for addressing issues of mutual aid and providing coordination and oversight of the FFCA's Statewide Emergency Response Plan (SERP). As a standing ad-hoc committee of the FFCA, the ERC:

- Is the FFCA's point of contact for fire service emergency management issues.
- Provides advice and assistance as requested to the state as they exercise and maintain their mutual aid and response plans.
- Develops educational programming for chief fire officers on emergency management related topics.
- Maintains ongoing communications and relationships with the national emergency management associations specifically related to the Emergency Management Assistance Compact (EMAC) process.

Wildland Fire – The Wildland Fire Committee provides leadership and collaborates, cooperates and communicates with all interested parties in working towards two goals: 1) to effectively mitigate the costs and losses due to wildland fire and 2) to create a coordinated and integrated response to wildland fire, reducing costs and losses.

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS OF ALL INDIVIDUALS REPRESENTING THE FFCA

As leaders within the FFCA, committee, task force and section chairs, and members may occasionally be requested by the president and/or executive director to represent the association and address the public, media or federal government on technical matters related to the committee or task force's scope of work. When requested to represent the association, all members will be expected to comply with the following general expectations:

1. Demonstrate conduct that is always professional and brings credit to the association and its membership.
2. Accept and act upon extemporaneous or ad hoc direction from the FFCA board in a timely manner.

3. Work with the executive director to ensure the alignment of association-wide efforts.
4. Reflect by their actions support of FFCA programs and work collaboratively with FFCA staff to provide service effectively and efficiently to the fire and emergency response community.
5. Reflect in their actions adherence to the FFCA's bylaws, policies and resolutions as well as the following adopted principles:
 - i) FFCA and its representatives will build and maintain relationships with its members, state agencies and other partner organizations.
 - ii) FFCA and its representatives will actively foster communications to enhance these relationships.
 - iii) FFCA and its representatives will endorse, support and foster legislative and policy development initiatives that will enhance the fire and emergency service, and advance firefighter, citizen and community safety.
 - iv) FFCA and its representatives will endorse programs that foster and promote quality improvement and professional development for fire and emergency service professionals and agencies.
 - v) FFCA and its representatives will seek out and utilize fire and emergency service leaders who will professionally and enthusiastically advance the mission, goals and objectives of the organization.

All statements made by committee and task force chairs or committee members must first be coordinated with the committee's board liaison to ensure they represent the FFCA's views and ensure the best interests of the entire association. All lobbying or government advocacy activity must be coordinated through the executive board to ensure the association's compliance with state and federal law.

If a committee or task force chair is making any statements about technical issues of strategic, political or national importance, she or he must notify the executive director in writing (via the board liaison) of any statements made to the public or the media within five working days. This is to ensure that all positions are communicated and coordinated between the committees and the FFCA board. The board reserves the right to reverse any statement made by a committee or task force chair or committee member.

GUIDELINES FOR COMMITTEE, TASK FORCE MEMBERS AND EXTERNAL REPRESENTATIVES

FFCA's vibrant member volunteer structure, with many strong and knowledgeable leaders and technical experts, contributes to the success of the association in many ways. However, the broad scale of the FFCA structure can also lead to confusion if clear parameters on individual roles are not established. The following are offered to provide a better understanding of historically misinterpreted roles or actions of those chosen to represent the FFCA on committees and task forces or as representatives to other organizations.

1. No committee member, task force member or other representative can commit the association to binding legislative, administrative, financial or policy positions without the approval of the board of directors.
2. While recommendations may be made to the FFCA president, only the president is authorized to add or expel members of an ad-hoc committee or task force.
3. Committee members, task force members and other FFCA representatives are not authorized to determine association staffing or appointments, including non-traditional staffing such as contractors or subject matter support. Committee and task force chairs, and sometimes other representatives ending an appointment term, are encouraged to provide recommendations and feedback on content and staffing issues, but responsibility for staffing and management lay solely with the executive director.
4. Federal grants, private sector sponsorships, vendor agreements and other funding mechanisms are the ultimate responsibility of the FFCA parent organization, and not under the purview of a committee or task force. While committees or task forces may provide feedback and recommendations for such contracts, final authority for their content – including, but not limited to, staff commitments, deliverables and funding levels – remain with FFCA staff with the oversight of the board. Sponsorships and vendor agreements must also be coordinated with the FFCA executive director and/or staff.
5. The FFCA president is the official spokesperson of the association. No other individual may present himself/herself as an FFCA spokesperson without coordinating those activities in advance with the president and/or executive director.
6. No individual may leverage his/her position for personal, financial, or political gain.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT, ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

FFCA President - The president oversees the governance of the FFCA, including committees and task forces. The president's responsibilities shall include:

1. Providing overall direction and policy-level guidance to all components.
2. Appointing all committee and task force chairs.
3. Approving all committee and task force member appointments, except for those for the constitutional committees.
4. The right to remove any committee member or chair who in the opinion of the president is not faithfully executing his or her committee duties.
5. Establishing any necessary committees and task forces not provided for in the constitution and bylaws.

Executive Director - The executive director oversees the management of the FFCA, including committees and task forces. The executive director's responsibilities shall include:

2. Assuring continuity of committee and task force actions and activity from year to year.

7. Bringing pending policy issues or action items before the board for discussion with the assistance of the component chair and liaison.

Board Committee Liaisons - Each committee or task force will be assigned a board liaison. Board liaison responsibilities shall include:

1. Helping their committee or task force chair write action plans, annual budgets, board updates and annual accomplishment reports.
2. Acting as a central point of contact for their committee or task force regarding policy issues and questions to be discussed by the executive director and/or the board of directors.
3. Updating committee charters and sending them to all new committee members.
4. Assisting with administrative support for the committee or task force on matters relating to the work of the committee. This may include sending correspondence, arranging conference calls, providing resource materials, coordinating articles for publication in FFCA's Florida Fire Service, etc., as requested by the committee or task force chair.
5. Working with the committee or task force chair and members to ensure that the work of the committee or task force is accomplished between meetings.
6. Organizing the logistics of meetings, including hotel arrangements, travel and meals.
7. Aiding their committee and task force with financial matters. This includes reimbursements and financial reports.

COMMITTEE/TASK FORCE MEMBER APPOINTMENT PROCESS AND DUTIES

Committee and Task Force Chairs Appointment Process - Ad hoc committee and task force chairs are appointed by the FFCA president for two-year terms. An ad hoc committee and/or task force chair can serve up to a total of two (2) two-year terms at the discretion of the president. The president also may authorize a sitting chair to serve one additional two-year term.

A term-limited ad hoc committee chair may request reappointment for an additional one-year term by submitting an exception request in writing to the executive director. The exception request must provide justification regarding the unique circumstances which warrant approval. The request then shall be reviewed by the president, first vice-president, and second vice-president, and must be approved unanimously to be authorized. An ad hoc committee chair is limited under this process to a maximum of three one-year terms and a separate exception request must be submitted each year.

Constitutional committee chairs serve one-year terms and are appointed as described in the constitution and bylaws. All committees and task forces may decide to select a vice chair to help the chair. The FFCA president appoints task force chairs when the task force is formed and serves until the task force is disbanded unless there are extenuating circumstances requiring the chair to vacate the position. The term limits of a committee member start over upon his or her appointment as chair.

Committee and Task Force Chair Duties - The chair guides the committee or task force in its work by setting goals and action plans consistent with the FFCA strategic initiatives document, and acts as the primary contact for the committee to the association and other outside organizations. Committee chairs must sign and adhere to a conflict of interest statement. The chair reports to the president and/or executive director and works closely with the FFCA board in order to ensure the fulfillment of all adopted goals and strategies.

General duties and responsibilities of committee and task force chairs shall include:

1. Actively participating in and contributing to the function of the committee on behalf of the best interests of the entire FFCA and its membership.
2. Alerting the FFCA board and executive director of any emerging issues that may be of interest or concern to the association. Making action and policy recommendations to the board of directors.
3. Developing a proposed annual action plan and budget that will be reviewed and approved by the FFCA executive board to ensure the committee's work is consistent with the association's policies and strategic direction.
4. Supporting an environment in which committees actively contribute to FFCA members' ability to contribute to national discussions, network and develop professionally.
5. Collaborating, as appropriate, with other FFCA committees and initiatives that address fire and emergency service issues with common goals.

6. Conducting face-to-face committee meetings at FRE and EDC, participating in any conference calls as needed.
7. Developing committee meeting agendas and taking notes at committee-related meetings (including, but not limited to, committee meetings, meetings with the FFCA board, meetings with other FFCA committees, sections or FFCA staff) and preparing and distributing a report for committee members. The staff liaison will assist in these functions at the request of the chair.
8. Submitting all required reports on committee functions on time. This includes submitting the annual action plan (January in conjunction with FRE), the annual budget report (September), board updates and annual report of accomplishments to the board of directors via the liaison (July in conjunction with EDC).
9. Recommending ad hoc committee members for consideration by the FFCA president.
10. Serving as, and providing leadership to, subject matter experts from whom the FFCA board and staff can draw advice, strategic insights and technical expertise.
11. Recommending committee-related subject matter experts for consideration by the FFCA president for other presidential appointments (FFCA representatives to other organizations, etc.).
12. Conducting an annual review of participation of all committee and/or task force members.

Ad hoc Committee and Task Force Members Appointment Process – Any members of the association may serve as committee or task force members. Non-members with specific expertise may be appointed to an ad hoc committee or task force as an adjunct member. Ad hoc committees may have a maximum of 12 members, including the chair.

All committee and task force members must meet specific professional qualifications pertinent to the committee or task force appointed. The chair will review the committee and task force membership annually for participation in teleconferences and attendance at FFCA conferences. Lack of participation may warrant replacement.

Committee members may be appointed for a total of two (2) three-year terms at the discretion of the FFCA president. The president may also authorize a sitting committee member to serve one additional three-year term. The committee chair may request reappointment of a term-limited committee member for a one-year term by submitting an exception request in writing to the executive director. The exception request must provide justification regarding the unique circumstances which warrant approval. The request shall be reviewed by the FFCA president, first vice-president and executive director.

The FFCA president makes the final decision on any term extension. A committee member is limited under this process to a maximum of three (3) one-year terms and a separate exception request must be submitted each year.

Replacement of committee members should be staggered to avoid the attrition of multiple members, thereby losing multiple members with valuable experience the same year. Mentoring and succession planning is encouraged in all FFCA committees. Though the FFCA president may appoint committee chairs who are not already members of a committee, the development of committee members for succession to committee chair should be considered when appointments are made.

Permanent or Standing Committee Appointment Process - The appointment process for the Audit, Budget and Finance Committees, the Elections Committee, the Membership Committee and the Strategic Planning Committee are governed by the FFCA constitution and bylaws. Committee member participation, removal and terms apply to the permanent committees.

All Committee and Task Force Members Duties - General duties and responsibilities of committee and task force members shall include:

1. Actively participating in and contributing to the function of the committee on behalf of the best interests of the entire FFCA and its membership. This includes review of relevant materials and initiating topical recommendations to the chair before committee meetings.
2. Completing individual assignments made by the committee chair in a timely manner.
3. Contributing to the creation of policy and program recommendations that help the association members or the fire and emergency service.
4. Supporting an environment in which committees actively contribute to FFCA members' ability to contribute to national discussions, network and develop professionally.
5. Collaborating, as appropriate, with other FFCA committees and initiatives that address fire and emergency service issues with common goals.
6. Serving as a subject matter expert from whom the FFCA board and staff can draw advice, strategic insights and technical expertise.
7. Demonstrate commitment to the association through participation in FFCA conferences, strategic direction summits and other FFCA activities.

Adjunct Committee Members Appointment Process - Up to three (3) adjunct committee members may be appointed to the committee at the discretion of the committee chair. These are people with subject matter expertise, positions or titles that will benefit the committee. An adjunct member is not required to be a member of the FFCA to qualify for adjunct status. Commercial members and vendors may serve as adjunct committee members.

Adjunct committee members do not have voting privileges on the committee and expenses are not generally covered by the FFCA for participation on the committee (exceptions for expense reimbursement may be made under certain circumstances at the discretion of the board).

Adjunct Committee Members Duties - Adjunct members play a significant role on committees and must comply with all governance principles of the committee. Adjunct members must participate in at least 75% of all committee activities (meetings, conference calls, etc.). Adjunct committee members are given three-year appointments, but the chair will conduct an annual review of all adjunct members and can remove such members for lack of participation.

Documents Distributed - All committee and task force members, including any adjunct members, will receive a copy of the committee purpose, mission and guidelines.

APPOINTMENT PROCESS

Committee and Task Force Chairs - The executive board will identify chairs whose terms are expiring. When established, a call for committee chairs will be issued in the Florida Fire Service and posted to the FFCA website. The call posts open positions and requires members to submit a letter of interest and a resume.

When membership of all applicants is confirmed, the president and executive director will review the applicant's paperwork and may conduct telephone interviews as part of the interview process. The first vice-president may be included in the review process at the discretion of the president.

Appointment letters, the committee guidelines document and leadership manuals are sent to new committee and task force chairs by the executive director. "Thank you" letters are sent to outgoing committee members by each committee liaison.

Task Force Members - Task force membership appointment may follow a similar process of calling for volunteers, or a select group may be identified to send a representative (e.g. a task force concerning sections may require each section to nominate one member to represent their interests). As task force chairs and members are typically appointed for the life of the task force, task force members are appointed by the president without recommendations from the chair (except in the event of a vacancy in a current task force). The president may also appoint task force members without a call for volunteers if the topic or timeline requires specific or immediate action.

The association may periodically solicit participation in task forces from the general membership. Members interested in task force participation will be referred to the appropriate chairs for consideration as prospective committee members. Their resumes and letters of interest may be held for future consideration.

APPOINTMENTS TO EXTERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

The FFCA has formal and informal relationships with government entities and other organizations involved in the fire service. These relationships serve the association by strengthening the coordination of activities within the fire and emergency services, increasing the leadership role of the FFCA, sharing information and gaining input from other organizations.

Appointment and Eligibility - The FFCA president appoints all official representatives to external organizations. All sections and committees shall submit nominations to the president for formal appointment when they are contacted by other organizations for FFCA representatives. Active members will be given priority consideration for appointment to external organizations; however, when special circumstances warrant, Associate members, Corporate members or Senior (retired) members may be considered for appointment when that member offers expertise. Appointments will be made for three-year terms unless otherwise indicated. The association will maintain a list of appointments and the term of those appointments.

The representative is encouraged to use FFCA committees as a resource. Quite often representatives will serve on committees or have close ties with committees because the work is interdependent. Good communication among the related committees and representatives to other organizations is essential. It is important that all external representatives understand that they are representing the FFCA and must always maintain a professional demeanor and keep the best interests of the association in mind. Each representative must report their activities to the board of directors on a quarterly basis.

SPECIAL PURPOSE COMMITTEE

Members having special interests and less than fifty (50) Active and/or Associate members may request to form a special purpose committee of the association as described herein. Special purpose committees shall select their own section councils. Upon approval each special purpose committee will act in accordance with established policies and be consistent with the constitution and bylaws of the association.

SECTION INFORMATION

Members having specialized interests may, on attaining not less than fifty (50) Active and/or Associate members, request to form a section of the association as described herein. For consideration, the requester must demonstrate not less than twenty-four (24) months of active participation within the association. Active participation will be demonstrated to the executive director through meeting minutes, attendance records and preapproved section by-laws as a precondition to applying to become a section of the FFCA.
