

Motor vehicle safety after the storm

- Use extra caution when driving in hurricane-affected areas where the usual traffic signs may be missing and traffic lights may not work.
- It helps to drive slower than usual and to keep extra space between you and other drivers.
- Stop and look both ways at all intersections.
- If a streetlight isn't working, treat the intersection as a four-way stop.
- Watch for flooded areas and downed power lines. Do not drive through these areas.
- Always wear your seatbelt and be sure children are also belted in or riding in child passenger safety seats.
- Watch for trash and debris on the road.
- Never drink and drive.
